

Membership Application Overview

The Vinyl Siding Institute is a 501(c)6 trade association representing the manufacturers of vinyl and other polymeric cladding and suppliers to the industry.

Our mission is to further the development and growth of the vinyl and other polymeric siding industry. VSI drives ever growing acceptance, perception and preference of the category and helps its members more deeply engage with and activate key audiences and initiatives.

Membership in the Vinyl Siding Institute is limited to individual firms, partnerships, or corporations engaged in the manufacture and marketing of vinyl and/or other polymeric siding; and suppliers to those manufacturers of raw materials, equipment, and services related to vinyl and other polymeric siding products.

VSI dues/assessments for members are based on sales of vinyl and other polymeric siding or products and services to the vinyl and other polymeric siding industry.

Membership applications are reviewed by the VSI Board of Directors. Upon approval by the VSI Board of Directors, dues and relevant assessments must be paid before membership is active.

If you are interested in learning more about membership and/or want to receive an application and current dues rate, please contact VSI President & CEO Kate Offringa at koffringa@vinylsiding.org.
